

AN AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL ANIMATED THRILLER

CHARACTER BIBLE

Fiango core cast and protected future-cast guide

Character system

Every visual difference must reveal how a person acts under pressure. These images are character-development composites, not literal portraits.

ZINO

Quick movement, bright attention, earth and faded blue; turns loss into a story.

GRAND

Stillness, clean navy and gold; the imagined answer to every impossible problem.

GIDEON

Camera and crossed-body bag; scans for a route to money before he speaks.

LUC

Small Bible, square posture and clean lines; moral courage without a sermon.

MOTHER

Teacher’s papers, practical shoes and upright control; care expressed through action.

UNCLE

Envelope, newspaper and deliberate hands; pride constrained by what he can do.

MISS MUKETE

Glass, chalk and blue/white precision; academic attention with standards.

LANDLORD

Keys and ledger; money pressure present without turning him into a villain.

NON-NEGOTIABLE FACT BOUNDARIES

- Zino’s father is family testimony and must remain outside Zino’s firsthand point of view.
- Elianne’s timing and story are unconfirmed; she receives agency before romance.
- The unnamed aunt, U.S. girlfriend, crypto circle and boarding cast are protected placeholders until Zino supplies the detail needed to distinguish them truthfully.
- Physical traits below are proposed animation choices and must change when a real reference, correction or fictionalisation direction arrives.

Nkeh “Zino” Nkengzincho

The real boy at the centre of the story

CHARACTER

ZINO

Gifted footballer, storyteller and future-builder.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed foundation: ten in Chapter One’s opening; born 1990; bright, witty, kind and just. Pidgin with friends, English at home, French and English at school. He wants to build his mother a house.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Slim, quick-footed silhouette; tapered curls, expressive brow and a fast smile; faded white vest, worn blue shorts, scuffed ball, coins and school bag.

CONTINUITY HOLD

Temper, people-pleasing and limited self-awareness must coexist with intelligence. Do not make hardship his only trait.

Grand-Chukuchuku

The man Zino invents when ordinary life needs an impossible answer

CHARACTER

GRAND-CHUKUCHUKU

Zino’s fictional adult ideal; never a literal future or supernatural force.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed foundation: Zino tells friends stories about this man doing what nobody else can. He appears only while Zino actively crosses reality with fiction.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Locked baseline: tapered curls, close beard, warm brown complexion, navy suit, open white shirt and brown shoes. Navy, cream and gold mark imagination; a composed eye line and stillness set him apart.

CONTINUITY HOLD

He may not fly, fight, rescue real consequences or become a superhero. As the story grows darker, he can fail to appear.

The school orbit

Distinct friends who make Fiango feel lived in

CHARACTER

GIDEON

Business-minded friend; sees opportunity before he sees comfort.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed: first camera in secondary school, birthday gigs, pays for small outings, quiet with girls and values Zino’s social help.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Olive stripes, compact camera, cross-body bag, guarded shoulders and a measuring gaze.

CHARACTER

LUC

Faithful, candid friend; the group’s conscience.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed: carries a small Bible, preaches to students, values Zino’s maths help and humour.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Clean white/brown school palette, lean upright posture, compact Bible kept close to chest.

CHARACTER

ELIANNE

Zino’s first love; must remain a full person, never a prize.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed: first love only. Her chronology, age, personal goals and relationship story are open.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Proposed: neat braids, blue accent, books and a deliberate gaze; give her boundaries and a life beyond Zino.

CONTINUITY HOLD

Keep every age-specific version provisional until Zino supplies the relationship timeline.

The people behind the promise

Mother, uncle and an inherited absence

CHARACTER

ZINO’S MOTHER

Single mother, primary-school teacher and Zino’s most important promise.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed: taught from a young age throughout his childhood; believed in him and raised him after his father died.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Wax-print teacher dresses, marked exercise books, practical shoes and controlled upright posture. Care shows in action, not pity.

CHARACTER

PATERNAL UNCLE

Intermittent school-fee support and the person who makes, then defers, America’s promise.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed: supported fees at times; proud of O-Levels; promised America after five A-Levels, then moved it to after a first degree.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Understated collared shirt, envelope, newspaper and deliberate hands. No automatic wealth or villainy.

CONTINUITY HOLD

Name, work, contribution sequence and reason for the deferral remain open.

CHARACTER

ZINO’S FATHER

A loss Zino inherited, not a memory he owns.

ON SCREEN

Family testimony: died after a snake bite while spraying cocoa when Zino was two. Zino has no direct recollection.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Use a respectful photo, told memory or restrained symbolic image only. The cocoa-farmer portrait is nonliteral.

CONTINUITY HOLD

No first-person Zino flashback, invented dialogue, injury spectacle or invented character history.

Adults who shape the frame

Academic attention and the ordinary pressure of money

CHARACTER

MISS MUKETE

Zino’s favourite chemistry teacher.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed: favourite chemistry teacher. No other biography or exact likeness is yet supplied.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Proposed: gold-rimmed glasses, blue patterned blouse, lab coat, chemistry book and small glass beaker. Exact, observant and encouraging without becoming generic inspiration.

CONTINUITY HOLD

Do not build a personal episode around her until Zino provides a specific classroom memory.

CHARACTER

THE LANDLORD

The recurring face of the compound’s rent and electricity calculations.

ON SCREEN

Confirmed: comes monthly to collect rent and light money from a compound of families, single mothers, bachelors and student tenants.

DISTINCT SIGNALS

Proposed: lean older silhouette, silver at the temples, pale shirt, dark trousers, sandals, keys and ledger. His calm routine lets money pressure enter without claiming malice.

CONTINUITY HOLD

No invented debt amount, motive or confrontation presented as fact.

Known, but not visually locked

These people and groups belong in the series, but they need details before they receive a visual identity or speak for themselves.

MATERNAL AUNT

Confirmed: cooked for and supported Zino, believed in him, and was later attacked and killed. Needed: name, age, memories, date/place/context, visual reference and source boundary.

U.S. GIRLFRIEND

Confirmed: Zino identifies a girlfriend during the America years. Needed: name or fictionalisation choice, years together, her perspective, relationship change and consent boundaries.

BOARDING-SCHOOL CAST

Confirmed environment: elite students, wealthy parents, white teachers and priests, bullying, strict discipline. Needed: names, individual roles, actual incidents and visual references.

FOOTBALL FRIENDS / CRYPTO CIRCLE

Confirmed: Zino pitched Nkap and njangi.xyz to football friends. His account alleges later reporting to immigration and an attempted takeover. Needed: names or fictionalisation plan, records, contributions and a defensible account before anyone is depicted doing harm.

DUBAI COLLEAGUES

Confirmed: Zino moved to Dubai in 2020 and worked for a Chinese online retailer of digital products. Needed: work function, people, setting and perspectives.

UNIVERSITY / IMMIGRATION CHARACTERS

Confirmed: Oklahoma studies beginning 2012, money, papers, loneliness, racism and deportation in 2019. Needed: dates, documents, names, events and a fictionalisation plan.

PRODUCTION RULE

A visual design must follow character truth. Until the source is known, preserve the narrative space rather than filling it with a convincing invention.
